ROCKIN' AND ROLLIN': Children's entertainer David Archibald kept on rolling Friday night as the featured performer at the Music by the Gull free concert. Much to the delight of the youngsters, he opened the evening wheeling through the audience on roller blades as he sang and played the guitar. The evening also included a fund-raising hot dog barbecue which garnered close to $800 for the Hospitals building projects. Unfortunately, due to a sudden rain storm, the performance was cut short. Music by the Gull will not be on this Friday, because of the Heineken Yard which will take place on Main Street July 30. The free concerts return August 6 with vocalist Zoe Chilco.

Board will offer adult education program

The "Three R's" are becoming accessible to Haliburton County residents young and old this fall, as the first adult education centre is opened at the former Victoria Street School in Haliburton.

Earlier in the spring, the Trillium Lakelands District School Board decided to implement the adult education program in Haliburton County. Part of the board's mandate is to ensure that programs are available to all three former districts. Adult education has been offered in Victoria County for four and a half years and in Muskoka District for five and a half years.

Laura Willis will be co-ordinating the Haliburton

County courses, which will focus on math, English and science skills. The courses are open to everyone, but, it is expected students will use opportunity to gain credits to earn a secondary school diploma. Willis has been a teacher at HHSS for almost 25 years.

The process of organizing and setting up the adult education centre is in its infancy, and Willis has begun meeting with Adult Education Principal Greg Einarson and Vice-Principal Ward Levine to iron out the problems encountered in setting up a totally new program. Everyone is confident that the programs will open by some time in September.

The expansion of the educational mandate of the school board has also created a partnership within the community as the Victoria Street School will be the home for the Sir Sandford Fleming College Academic upgrading program, headed by Bob Smith.

Students can attend the college courses first. Their programs are designed for individuals who may need specialized literacy or math skills. This training will be required before completing the high

Governor General's Award recognizes a lifetime of caring about the community

A family which has long served the community has been recognized for its efforts, with a prestigious national award.

Don and Opal Crowe will receive the Governor General's Caring Canadian Award, along with other Canadians from across the nation.

The municipal council of Anson, Hindon and Minden nominated the Crowes. The forms were submitted three years ago, however, the municipal staff ensured that during the intervening time the application for the distinguished award was not lost. "We're really happy that this has finally gone through," said Clerk-Treasurer Tammy McKelvey.

Governor General Roméo LeBlanc created the awards in 1995, to honour volunteers and caregivers in all of the provinces and territories. Since then 402 community-minded people have received the award.

Reeve Jeanne Anthon was pleased to hear that the Minden family had been included among the Canadians to receive this honour. "When our council was made aware of the Caring Canadian Award, the Crowe family immediately came to mind. Through the years, Don and Opal have quietly and effectively supported individuals and groups throughout the municipality," said Anthon. "In honouring Don and Opal, we recognize the contributions of the whole family. They have assisted with community events and responsibilities through volunteering skills, time, energy, materials and services. They are a truly caring family and Minden is delighted to have an opportunity to say 'thank you.'"

Noted among their achievements is their donations of money and items from their family business, Kawartha Dairy. The Crowes have made endless donations to various activities in Minden including the Santa Claus parade, Minor Hockey and Baseball, as well as the famed Kawartha Dairy Barn Dance, which is now run by the Kinsmen and Kinette clubs. (This year's dance was held Saturday night with the proceeds going to Minor Hockey.)

The Crowes also spent many years with Kinsmen and Kinette organizations, and now belong to the K-40 club, for retired members of the Kinsmen. Don Crowe was awarded a life membership to the Kinsmen Club for his efforts.

Tom Prentice, a long time

Kinsmen member and friend to the Crowes, felt that the award was recognition a long time in coming. "I think its just the greatest thing since sliced bread. I can't think of a more deserving couple. They've always been involved and dedicated many hours to the Kinsmen and Kinettes," said Prentice.

Healthcare is also an issue of interest to the Crowes, as Don Crowe is a member of the Community Committee for Physicians, which seeks to bring doctors to the Minden area.

As well, in 1995, when Hyland Crest Senior Citizens home had to be evacuated for an emergency situation, Kawartha Dairy provided a truck to move bedding and supplies to the nearby community centre and return the equipment the following day.

The Crowes have also helped organize fund-raising dances, donated freezer space in an emergency. "The Crowes continually demonstrate their concern for their community and their willingness to help their neighbours in need," the Governor General's Caring Canadian citation concludes.

According to a press release issued from Rideau Hall, the recipients of the Caring Canadians award receive a certificate which will be presented either by the Governor General or by a designate of His Excellency.

Adult education offered

school credits. Students can then move into the high school program, and complete their credits for a diploma if they wish. The education will allow the students to become part of the work force or pursue further education at college.

Although the partnership between the college and the school board is still fairly new, both Smith and Willis feel that the Highlands Community Learning Centre will be able to offer a wide range of courses and learning experiences. "It just makes sense," said Willis.

Flexibility in learning will be a key aspect of both programs. Adult students who work or have children, or younger students who have trouble in the regimented secondary school system, will find that they may start later in the year if necessary. "We have to adapt our system to our student's needs," said Smith.

The program will certainly keep the instructors moving as they could be teaching a variety of subjects at different learning levels at once. "It's a lot like a one room school house," said Willis.

Greg Einarson believes that the program will be a great asset to the community. Studies have shown that students who complete their education have a much greater chance of succeeding in further education or in the work force, as well as gaining valuable inter-personal skills and greater self-esteem.

The Victoria Street School is currently being cleaned and prepared for the influx of students in the fall. New computers have also been purchased and according to Ward Levine most, if not all, of the courses will utilize the computers. As Levine points out, most jobs are affected by computers and information technology, from grocery store scanners to graphic design.

The full range of courses and programs has yet to be determined, however it is anticipated that more information will be available through the media and the school board later in the summer.

PRE-PLANNING... A THOUGHTFUL WAY OF CARING

When you die, your loved ones will have to deal not only with their sorrow and loss in your passing, but also with the many details and decisions required in planning your funeral arrangements.

By caring enough to pre-plan these arrangements you can ease the burden of your family during this difficult time. With pre-planning, you specify arrangements that might have otherwise caused sadness, confusion, even differences of opinion among family members. You make the choices - even determine the cost - involved in your funeral; bringing peace of mind to yourself and your family with the knowledge that they will not have to decide what your wishes might have been.

Planning for the future is logical, wise and caring.

Don't let this important time be an exception.

Having your say

Editorial

This is not an opportunity to whine, carp and complain. As inviting as it may be to some to use the strategic planning forum scheduled for next Wednesday to air complaints about the past, it is in fact an opportunity to encourage and consider positive input about the future of Haliburton County.

The strategic planning process has been taking place in the county for almost two years now. During that time, groups studying various aspects of the county's future: the infrastructure, environment, health care, economic development, marketing, etc. have been working for the past two years. Mostly peopled by volunteers, these committees have been providing regular updates as they pursue their area of interest.

A public meeting helped to kick-start this process. The community was invited to provide some direction on what was important to the future of the Highlands. These same individuals were asked to step forward and be a part of the search for answers, by being a member of a committee in which they had an interest. To their credit, many did.

Two years later, these people want to report what has been accomplished and solicit the comments of the public as to where they should be going next.

This planning process is extremely well-timed. The aging baby-boomers, that large bulge in the demographics, is approaching retirement. Many are looking to leave the hustle of the city behind for the more tranquil settings of rural Ontario. In many ways, the Haliburton Highlands has exactly what they are looking for in the way of a rural lifestyle and a slower pace of life. Hopefully, before this mass influx of new residents occurs, we can have a plan that recognizes the stresses the future will bring and plan now to deal with it.

Everyone wants a community that is liveable, sustainable and which respects the environment which makes this an attractive place to be. There are any number of paths which can take us to these objectives. Everyone can be a part of finding the solution.

The public meeting has been scheduled for early August to give all property owners the opportunity to be heard. Hopefully everyone who cares about the future of the Highlands will make a point of attending, learning more and contributing to this important process.

(The meeting will be held at PineStone Resort, August 4, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Advance registration to ensure adequate refreshments is requested by calling 286-1333.)

Close to heaven on earth

Letters

Editor:

One again the rumour mill says that our "Backroom Boys" (a.k.a. our beloved County Council) are in panic mode over the subject of restructuring, amalgamation, subjugation or whatever you care to call it. Rumour one says that Stanhope is about to join Dysart et al. The Echo July 13 quotes Reeve Rigney of Snowdon, "If we can get the right deal, we're out of here." regarding Snowdon as a stand-alone municipality.

Glamorgan has indicated interest in the party and Anson, Hindon and Minden stand ready to absorb at least Lutterworth and Snowdon. Another rumour says that our County will be portioned off to Muskoka, Hastings and Victoria, thus ceasing to exist.

These people either can't or don't read, nor do they pay any attention to the news media. Steve Gilchrist, our new Minister of Municipal Affairs and our pal, Al Palladini, have both stated that there will be no more forced amalgamations. Meantime our elected acclaimed representatives are crying that the almighty "They" will send a commissioner to force "Their" will on us. (Just who are "They"?)

Steve has said he only wants to see savings through sharing and increased offerings. At least two studies have shown that Haliburton is giving maximum value to its taxpayers almost everywhere. He has also said he wants to create more jobs at the municipal level. If we combine and some smarmy honour graduate of A.K. 101 becomes chief of Haliburton, he/she will get a huge salary while several excellent loyal employees will have to seek employment elsewhere and we will all suffer.

"Bingogate" in BC and the scandal of our Social Services Minister and Andersen Consulting show how hard it is to keep an eye on crooks and stupidity in large government units.

I can understand Snowdon looking for a partner. It is like Daisy Mae looking for a rich husband. Otherwise we should appreciate what we have.

We've seen a lot of the world. Haliburton warts and all, is as close as you'll get to Heaven before you make your last visit to Gord Monk. Let's try to keep it that way.

Province searching for citizens to join exclusive three century club

Arthur Black
Etcetera

In the year 2000 there will be one in almost every community across the province - a centenarian, someone whose life spans the 19th, 20th and 21st centuries.

These are people who have seen an extraordinary amount of change in their lifetime - from the Model T to the Apollo spaceships, the birth of television to the development of the Internet.

Now the provincial government wants to honour our most senior citizens for the work they've done to make Ontario one of the best places to live, work and raise a family. A special initiative has been established for Ontario residents who will turn more than 100 years old in the year 2000.

It's part of Ontario 2000, the province's program to commemorate the new millennium. The program features a series of inclusive, community-based initiatives to involve everyone, of every age, in creating a meaningful legacy of this once-in-a-lifetime event.

On July 13, Citizenship, Culture and Recreation Minister Helen Johns - also the Minister with responsibility for Seniors and Women - launched the Three Century Club at Toronto's Baycrest Centre for Geriatric Care.

"We owe an enormous debt of gratitude to our seniors," Minister Johns said. "The dawn of the new millennium gives us a golden opportunity to honour them for their contribution to Ontario's growth, prosperity and diversity."

It is estimated that there will be as many as 1,000 Ontarians eligible for induction into the Three Century Club during the year 2000. Members of the Ontario 2000 staff plan to identify as many of them as possible, as soon as possible, through a list of more than 4,000 seniors' health-care and social organizations. These organizations will be sent copies of the nomination forms, including background information.

Family members, friends and care providers are invited to nominate these special seniors, who will receive a provincial certificate of recognition. Presentation of the Three Century Club certificates will take place across the province throughout the millennial year.

Joining Minister Johns at the Three Century Club launch was Baycrest resident Minn Sandler. Born Dec. 29, 1895, Mrs. Sandler had two children of her own, and now has four grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren. She ran her own successful antique store in Toronto.

She attributes her longevity to a sense of humour - and good genes. She's the eldest of five siblings, all of whom lived until at least the age of 80. Her surviving sister is 96.

"I'm grateful to have my family around me," she said. "It's wonderful. I have a lot to be thankful for and I am, believe me."

Ontario has many people like Mrs.

Sandler, Minister Johns said. "Seniors have built this province through hard work and dedication. We're proud to honour them through the Three Century Club and in our plans to mark the new millennium."

Scooters make a comeback

When I was a little kid, my Uncle Roy built me a scooter.

Fancy, it wasn't. A four-foot length of 2X6 with a couple of discarded wagon wheels fore and aft. He made a steering column out of a broken hockey stick, nailed a cross-piece to it for handle bars and I thought I'd died and gone to heaven.

My first set of wheels - not counting the baby carriage.

Wheeling soon became more complicated. When I figured out how to balance myself without a foot on the ground, I graduated to a CCM one-speed with coaster brakes - when you wanted to stop you just pedaled backwards, which seized the rear wheel and brought you to a skidding halt.

Then one summer, Donny Rutherford showed up riding a shiny new Schwinn with - get this - hand brakes right on the handlebar and THREE forward gears: Low, Medium and High.

Every kid on the block succumbed to unbridled Cycle Lust. Little did any of us know: this was merely the beginning of the Golden Age of bicycles.

Three-speeds begat 5-speeds begat

10-, 13-, even 17-speed bikes.

Festooned with toe clips, rear derail-leurs, automatic shifters and suspension systems sporting unpronounceable Italian names, the machines began to look like extras from a Star Wars set.

Oh yes, and the quick release bicycle saddle. Who in hell wants a quick release bicycle seat? Weld the damn thing to the seat post so I don't have to carry it under my arm every time I stop at Tim Horton's.

Everything changed. My old CCM one-speed was made of crummy old steel and lasted for twenty years. Not good enough for the New Age machines. They're made of molybdenum and titanium and ultra-hi-impact polymers.

Not that that means they'll last twenty years or anything. These state of the art babies are not supposed to last twenty years. They're projected to turn into hopeless, out-dated dinosaurs after two or three seasons at most.

That way we'll all keep buying more, trying to get a leg up on the next two-wheeled trend.

So. Care to guess what the next two-wheeled trend is?

Scooters. Yup - two-wheeled, no-gear, no seat, push scooters. Just like the one my Uncle Roy made me.

Well, not exactly like that one. The new scooters are hi-tech, with knobby bicycle tires, chro-moly frames, V-brakes, fenders, a kickstand, a bell and a spotlight for night, uhh, scooting.

Plus, they're not called scooters any more. They're called autopedes.

They needed a more upscale name I guess, because the price tag is more upscale. It'll cost you three hundred bucks for the cheapest autoped on the market. The top of the line model will set you back a grand.

But hey, it's healthy, it's simple and it's faster and easier than either skateboarding or in-line skating, so why don't you give it a try? Hurry down to your local bi/tri/uni/recumbent/mountain/racing/touring cycle shop and ask if you can test drive one of those cutting edge autopedes.

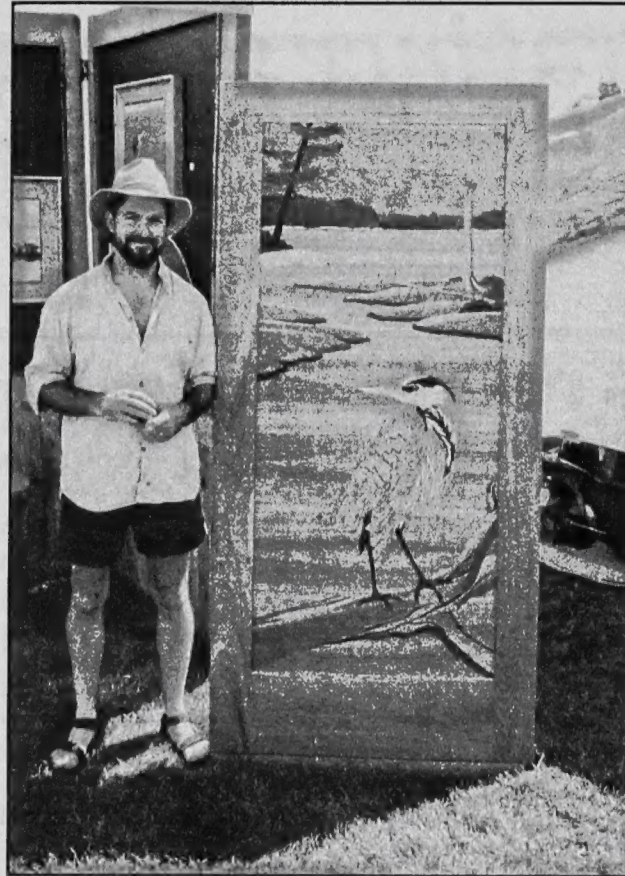

But don't forget to bring along the most important piece of cycling equipment.

Your wallet.

While roast pig may have been the featured item on the menu, it was Helen Burk that all the diners were watching last Saturday evening (July 24). She was in charge of the dessert tray at the Lochlin United Church roast pig dinner held at the Lochlin Community Centre. The church volunteers hosted three waves of diners who enjoyed the tasty offerings, including the selection of pies for afters.

ART IN THE PARK: Artisans took their work out of doors this past weekend as the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts hosted its annual show and sale. Haliburton County marquetry artist Kevin Dunlop was one of many to have his work on display during the three day festival.

Cardinals need one more win for league championship

CONTACT!: Coby Cardinals catcher Travis Magee makes contact with the ball during the July 19 game against Ops. The Cardinals defeated Ops 15-9 in this game to record an undefeated regular season.

The Coby Cardinals finished the regular season on July 19 with a 15-9 win over Ops. In their last meeting, the Cardinals blanked Ops 16-0.

Coby's pitching was lacklustre, but adequate. Brady Liscombe took to the mound late in the game for the save. He walked one and struck out three.

Liscombe also helped the cause with a double that scored two runs.

Ian Watson hit the long ball of the day. It sailed over the centre fielder's head for a triple and one RBI.

That win ended the regular season with an undefeated record for the Cardinals.

They hosted the Victoria-Brock Baseball League Peeewe championship tournament this past weekend.

Coby squeaked by the Lindsay 2 team in the tournament opener Saturday morning. Pitching remained a problem for the Cardinals in the 8-6 win. Hitting wasn't what it has been during the season either.

With that first win under their belts, the Cardinals took on Woodville in their second game.

The last time those two teams tangled, the game was called because of rain. Coby led after three innings, but Woodville jumped in front in the top of the fourth. Coby never got the chance to retaliate in the home half because the skies opened up and the game was officially rained out.

This time, the Cardinals held the lead throughout, although a late rally by Woodville gave the Cardinals and their fans cause for concern. In the end, the Coby team held on for an 11-9 win, which gave the Cardinals a by into the championship final on Sunday afternoon.

Results of that game will be published in next week's edition of The Times.

Continued support needed for Drag River Rehab Project

"The Drag River in Haliburton has been used for everything from a fishing hole to a garbage dump over the last 100 years," said Dave Mowat, who heads the Haliburton Drag River Rehabilitation Project. Mowat is a science teacher at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Mowat and one of his colleagues, Derek Little, along with several of their students, received a Canadian Fisheries Improvement Grant to improve the walleye spawning bed in the Drag River. That project was the start of a more ambitious venture -- the rehabilitation of the river and its banks, from Emmerson's Dam to Head Lake.

"Right now, we're making a huge change," Mowat said.

With $120,000 in seed money from the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources, the group has developed a very comprehensive plan to enhance the river's fish habitat as well as improve the river's banks to a park setting. The project is a community effort, with donations of cash, materials and labour from local businesses and individuals.

Mowat told the audience of 25 to 30 people that the project will require considerably more money to realize its goal.

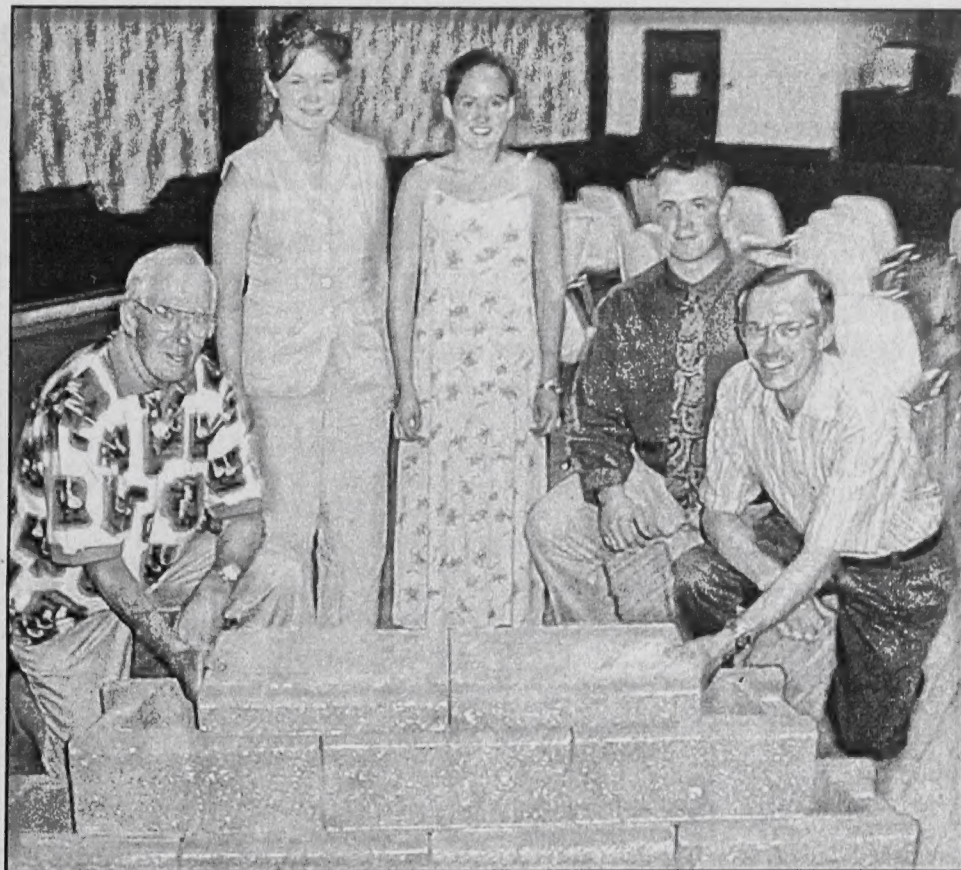

"We have enough money to save the fishery and stabilize the river bank," Mowat said. "But there are still a lot of other places to spend. It's going to cost a lot more money."

Mowat said the costs are going to be kept to a minimum by using as much volunteer labour as possible.

"We will keep costs down by turning it into a community project," he added. "There is no guarantee that government money will be forthcoming. Funding is not available if you can't get community involvement."

Mowat noted that the government looks more favourably on projects that demonstrate a community effort.

Gala Heal's team wins lawn bowling jitney

by Jim Hindle

A great time was had by all at the jitney, held by the Minden Indoor Lawn Bowling Club on Friday, July 16.

The action started at 10 a.m. with a spider draw, where all the bowlers form a circle and roll one bowl each toward the centre. The bowl closest to the hidden looneys won the looneys. There were several lucky winners.

The jitney commenced immediately after, with participants playing one game in the morning and one in the afternoon. Raffle draws were held during the matches and a 50/50 draw was held at the finish. Ralph Young was the 50/50 winner.

Gala Heal and her team, consisting of Ruth McKay, Ralph Young and Audrey Barclay, won first prize. Second prize went to Howie Ryan and his team of Eleanor Sewel, Dalton Flatt and Jim Corbett. Third prize was won by Ross Farr's team, including Eleanor Young, Madge Bennett and Renata Grober.

Fourth was the team of Katie Parker, with Laura Carnegie, Doris Ogle and Ruth Flatt. Joan Mackenzie's team, which included teammates Jim Hindle, Lorraine King and Robert Barclay placed fifth. Last, but not least, was Tom Hurtt and his team of Darrell Sewel, Gladys Wruth and Jean Holobon.

A birthday cake was presented dur-

Stanhope Sports Day set for Aug. 1

The annual Stanhope Sports Day is slated for Sunday, August 1 at Stanhope Park. The event started out as a fun day for children, but organizers decided they needed to have something for the adults to do while the younger generation was competing.

The first event for adults was a Slo-Pitch tournament. Coaches representing cottagers and residents on the lakes in Stanhope Township were recruited and they, in turn recruited players for their teams.

The idea, as organizer Garth Mole explains it, was to bring local people and cottagers together. He says the tournament has succeeded in that respect, introducing people who have lived and cottaged in the same area for years, but didn't know each other.

"I have to give credit to the coaches," Mole said. "It is a hard sell. They have to get people to come out on a Sunday morning. Some of them have been partying the night before. It's hard to get people out of bed after a party."

Mole said the tournament has even been credited with bringing two people together who were later married.

A player was injured during one of the tournament's games. A nurse who was watching the game assisted with the man's injuries. That chance meeting turned into a romance that saw the couple united in marriage.

Other sports have been added to the day's events. Horseshoes and a Seniors Davis Cup Tennis Tournament are gaining in popularity. Last year, beach volleyball was included. It proved to be an instant success.

Mole said he hopes more cottagers will get involved in the tennis and horseshoe events.

The action will start at 8 a.m. and continue until about 4 p.m.

Spectators are welcome.

Walleye fishery shows promise

ABOVE: MNR fisheries extension biologist David Flowers (left) and volunteer Shane Sisson (right) work quickly to take a walleye from the trap net while volunteer John Ball mans the dip net. The five-day trap netting project was designed to determine the health of the walleye population in Pine and Green Lakes

RIGHT: Ontario Junior Rangers and HHSS students placed 50 tons of rock rubble on a walleye spawning bed under the bridge at West Guilford last week. The spawning bed improvements will allow as many as 100 walleyes to lay their eggs in an area where about 30 had previously spawned.

A healthy walleye population in the Pine - Green chain of lakes could be a reality with the proper management practices and co-operation from anglers.

A trap netting program on Pine and Green Lakes at West Guilford was conducted from July 19 to 23. Data collected from the netting program hasn't been analyzed yet, but the preliminary findings are encouraging. The focus of the exercise was walleyes, but statistics were collected on other species as well.

The netting was conducted by the Ministry of Natural Resources, with the co-operation and help of volunteers from the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association and West Guilford Anglers.

The trap net program was designed to provide information on the fish community in Pine and Green Lakes. Special nets captured fish alive. They were counted and returned to the lakes. Walleyes were tagged, while other game fish such as muskellunge, largemouth and smallmouth bass were released untagged. All fish captured were recorded, but only the data on the largemouth and smallmouth bass, muskies and walleyes were recorded. Other species included pumpkinseed (sunfish), perch and rock bass.

At one net site on Pine Lake Thursday morning, 35 bass (including both largemouth and smallmouth) and three walleyes were captured. The bass ranged in length from five or six inches to 23 inches. David Flowers, a fisheries extension biologist with the Minden office of the Ministry of Natural Resources, said the diversity in the size of the bass indicates a healthy population, with fish in all age classes. All of the walleyes caught over the five-day period were larger fish. None were caught in the one to two year age range. Flowers said that indicates poor spawning success over the past couple of years.

"The water levels were abnormally low last year," Flowers said, adding that the low water levels could have played a major role in the success, or (lack thereof) of last year's spawning run.

A total of 33 walleyes were trapped over the five days of the project -- 14 from Pine Lake and 19 from Green Lake.

If anglers practice effective catch-and-release methods, allowing the brood stock to remain and propagate the species, the lakes in that chain could become a first class walleye fishery in a few years. Flowers encourages anglers to release any fish three pounds or over, at least for the next few years, until walleye stocks are built up to sustainable levels.

"Some of the best breeding fish are in the range of three to six pounds," he said.

A half-dozen muskies were trapped in Green Lake and although a few were seen in the shallows of Pine Lake, none were caught in the trap nets.

Flowers is very appreciative of the volunteer help that made this study possible. He and Scott Bird were the only ministry employees who spent the full five days on the project. Ross Wray from the Minden office assisted for one day.

A dozen volunteers helped out with the project, some for the full five days. Flowers sent out a special thanks to John Ball, Bev Hunt, Bert Cowan and Leon Jones for their dedication and valuable assistance over the five days of the project.

Flowers said there is a tremendous commitment by all of the people who helped with the project to improving the walleye fishery. He is confident that a great deal has been accomplished from the study. He will assess the data collected and meet with the interest groups involved in the project. He will then submit his recommendations to the ministry, suggesting the best management strategy for optimizing the walleye fishery in the Pine-Green chain of Lakes. Flowers says he hasn't ruled out the possibility of stocking walleyes in the lakes, but with the preliminary data, he thinks there are enough adult walleyes in Pine and Green lakes to sustain a healthy population, especially if the expanded spawning bed is used to capacity.

The walleye watch will continue and further studies will be conducted to determine the effectiveness of the spawning bed rehabilitation. Other spawning areas may be located and, if necessary, enhanced.

Objectives

The trap netting program, which will be repeated in the future, has three main objectives.

1.) To assess the health of the walleye community in the lakes and recommend a management strategy for future stocking, if warranted.

2.) To develop a worthwhile and effective sampling program for future years to monitor changes in fish community due to rehabilitation efforts, angler harvest and stocking (if conducted.)

3.) To carry out field surveys with the help of local groups (such as the HHOA and its members) to aid in program delivery, encourage communication, public education and develop a co-operative partnership to manage these fisheries on a sustainable basis.

No fish were killed during the five days of trap netting.

Spawning bed rehabilitated

The walleye spawning bed at the bridge in West Guilford received extensive rehabilitative work last week. About 30 Ontario Junior Rangers and 10 students from Dave Mowat's science classes at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School deposited about 50 tons of rock rubble over a 30- by 100-foot area to enhance the spawning bed. Flowers said the expanded area has the potential to allow up to 100 females to deposit their eggs, which is a substantial increase from previous limitations.

Overall, Flowers said the walleye situation looks "very encouraging."

Fund-raisers planned to continue project

which administers the funding for the project reflects a cross section of the community.

"We have a banker, a priest, business people, teachers ....," Mowat said. "The government money has been put in the hands of the community."

Continued community support is essential to the successful completion of the project.

"Community activism is always needed," Mowat said.

To help with the funding, the committee has produced some note cards with the logo, which was designed by Jenn Orpana. The packages of note cards sell for $5. Those interested in contributing to the project can also purchase blocks for the retaining walls which are being built to stabilize the river bank. Blocks can be purchased for $20 each and the names of donors will be engraved on a plaque, which will be on display at the park when it is finished. Mowat said the $20 is the estimated cost of each block and the associated labour to place it.

The idea to sell the blocks is credited to Wayne "Woody" Wood, a member of the committee.

A donation booth, where interested individuals can contribute to the Drag River Rehabilitation Project, will be set up at the Haliburton branch of the Bank of Montreal.

David Flowers, a fisheries extension biologist with the Minden office of the Ministry of Natural Resources, has been assisting with the project. He told the audience he has been in Haliburton County for two years and he feels very fortunate to be here. He said the community was lucky to have people like Dave Mowat, who is a "statesman for this community."

Flowers said Mowat made an excellent presentation to the Ministry of the Environment regarding oil contamination in the area of the Drag River. He is confident the presentation made an impact on ministry officials.

Flowers said the Walleye Watch, which was a co-operative effort of volunteers from the high school and the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association, was "the spark that lit the fire" for the project. He said people of all ages are involved, adding that it is a project that binds the community together.

"You can't put a dollar value on the volunteer help," Flowers said.

Flowers also commended the HHSS students for an excellent report, which they prepared on the project. He said it was in the top three project reports in Ontario, from among more than 500.

Jan Warfield of the Trails and Tours network made a brief presentation at the meeting. She outlined how the Drag River Project could be a focal point for Haliburton in the network.

Elk restoration coming to part of the Highlands

Natural Resources Minister John Snobelen identified three new areas as "best bets" to receive elk as part of the Provincial Elk Restoration Program.

The three areas are the Haliburton Highlands - Gin Lake area (near Bancroft), Lake of the Woods - Cameron Lake area (between Kenora and Fort Frances), and Lake Huron North Shore Nouvel Township area (near Blind River). The regions were given qualified endorsement after an evaluation process by the Provincial Elk Restoration Advisory Committee. The Advisory Committee then forwarded its recommendations to Minister Snobelen.

"We have worked with the partner groups on the Advisory Committee and locally based groups to come up with these best-bet sites," Mr. Snobelen said. "Without the tremendous help from local committees, volunteers and the provincial partner groups, as well as the generous financial support from local businesses and individuals, we would not be able to continue restoring this magnificent animal to its former range in the province."

The actual release of elk in the new sites is contingent upon completion of public consultation and finalization of implementation details. All three proposed sites fall within the previously identified boundaries of suitable habitat areas outlined in the Plan for the Restoration of Elk in Ontario.

At least 40 elk are scheduled to be released in the Haliburton Highlands. If more than 80 animals are received this year, the allocation will be split between the Haliburton Highlands and Lake of the Woods sites. As soon as these two sites have received their initial allocations, the Lake Huron North Shore area will receive 40 or more animals. This is tentatively scheduled for the winter of 2000/01.

Elk will come from Elk Island National Park near Edmonton where the animals are more numerous than their habitat can sustain. The park staff in Alberta work closely with MNR and the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation to ensure that elk are available for Ontario's restoration efforts.

The release this coming winter will mark the third phase of the Provincial Elk Restoration Program. In March 1998, 40 elk were released in the Nipissing-French River area about 60 kilometres southwest of Sudbury. Last winter, an additional 69 animals were released in the same general area.

Elk once ranged throughout much of Ontario, but disappeared in the late 1800s because of overharvesting and loss of habitat.

The Provincial Elk Restoration Project is a partnership of 12 organizations: Cambrian College, Laurentian University, Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation, Ontario Federation of Agriculture, Ontario

Deer and Elk Farmers Association, Ontario Fur Managers Federation, Parks Canada, Safari Club International (Ontario Chapter), French River Resorts Association, Northern Ontario Tourist Outfitters, and MNR.

Much of the funding for elk restoration in Ontario is being raised by provincial partners. Local implementation committees are also carrying out fundraising to assist with their local elk restoration efforts. Anyone wishing to make a donation may contribute to one of the following:

Health Unit issues warning on raccoon rabies strain

--Submitted by the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit--

The confirmed discovery of a new rabies virus in raccoons is prompting the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit to urge all pet owners to ensure their animals are vaccinated.

The first identification of the raccoon strain of the rabies virus in Canada was made in a dead raccoon found on July 13, north of Prescott, Ontario. After testing, the Canadian Food Inspection Food Agency has confirmed positive identification of the mid-Atlantic raccoon virus strain of rabies.

"Agencies across Canada have been working to track and prevent the spread of this type of rabies for a number of years," said Dr. Hukowich, the medical officer of health for the health unit. "It's unfortunate that we now have a confirmed case here in Ontario, but it means we must work even harder to prevent further spread. To help us do that, we are urging owners to ensure all of their pets are vaccinated."

Under Ministry of Health regulations, vaccination of all animals is mandatory in this area. Experience with raccoon rabies indicates it is transmitted mainly by raccoons, but cross-species infection does occur, especially with cats. In New York State, raccoon rabies increased the total number of rabid animals per year from around 20 to 2000. As the Ministry of Natural Resources has been using an oral bait method to vaccinate foxes, the situation may be different in Ontario. The present oral bait vaccine has not been effective in raccoons.

While there has never been a case of human rabies due to the raccoon rabies virus strain, the risk of human exposure to rabid raccoons is considered relatively high once the virus becomes established in the raccoon population. There are approximately one million raccoons in the urban and rural areas of Ontario, and some people like to feed and handle raccoons.

While vaccinating pets is one of the most effective means of stopping the spread of disease, Dr. Hukowich also cautions residents to protect themselves by avoiding any unfamiliar animals. A fact sheet has been released to provide additional information on the disease. Members of the public can obtain further information on rabies by calling the health unit office in Port Hope at 905-885-9100.

LKO elects exec.

Peter Oyler will be head of the Lake Kashagawigamog Organization (LKO) for the coming year. He was named the president of the organization following the group's annual meeting and first executive meeting July 19.

Other members of the executive include vice president Anthony vanLieshout, secretary Lourene Scott, treasurer Lynne Hoppenreys and past president John Hincks.

Participants in the Home and Garden Tour who stopped by the Minden County Town Museum enjoyed a number of demonstrations and special guides. At the left, Jolian and Bennett Young, two youngsters from Twelve Mile Lake, dressed as students of an earlier era and provided visitors with a tour of the old school house. Above visitors had an opportunity to watch John Sagal create an old fashioned English straw bee hive.

Many of the Home and Garden Tour participants came from out of town to enjoy the hospitality offered by Minden and area property owners.

Home & Garden Tour '99

The fourth annual Minden and Area Home and Garden Tour attracted close to 580 participants Saturday, July 24. They had an opportunity to visit seven unique and interesting homes in the area. Among the homes opened to the public were, clockwise from the upper left, The Barry and Kirsten Cray residence, where the host chats with visitors on the deck at the back of the house; the David and Julie Gray residence where daughter Larissa, served as tour guide; and the June Anderson home on Canning Lake where visitors chatted with June, right, about her colourful gardens.

Public invited to comment on planning process

by Cheryl Smith, Haliburton County HUB committee

Since Haliburton County's Strategic plan process (HUB) started in 1997, numerous volunteers have dedicated an incredible amount of time developing committees and discussing important issues going on throughout the County.

These committees include youth development, environment, marketing, economic diversification, networking, transportation, health services, and integrate database. The volunteer committees have come a long way. Some have encountered barriers and challenges but all are looking towards success.

It's once again time for permanent and seasonal residents to voice your opinion on how you feel the planning process is progressing. Offer suggestions, constructive criticism or voice your support to the volunteers who keep the wheels turning.

The public is invited to join the committee members on Wednesday, August 4 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the PineStone Resort in the Kinmount room, and enjoy a complimentary brunch. Participation is absolutely voluntary. The only penalty for not showing up is that you will miss an opportunity to learn, express your concerns and share your ideas.

Advanced registration is requested to assist in the meal arrangements. Please contact Cheryl Smith or Tamara Wilbee at the county office at 286-1333 as soon as possible to book your spot. Or by email at thecounty@haliburtonhighlands.com

Man pleads guilty to assault

An Ottawa man pleaded guilty to an assault charge in Minden Court this week, relating to an incident at last year's Haliburton Rotary Carnival.

Marcel Boisvert, 55, of Ottawa, pleaded guilty to assault causing bodily harm, after assaulting a 17 year old man during last year's event. According to Crown Attorney Chris Minhardt, the fight began after a patron of the fair was asked to leave by some of the carnival workers, sometime around midnight. The patron returned with a group of friends and eventually a fight ensued between the carnival employees and several local people, amounting to about 20 people.

During the melee, Boisvert struck the 17 year-old in the head with a metal pipe. The victim was taken to hospital with concern about a potential skull fracture, but the blow resulted only in a concussion. Entered into evidence were several photos of the victims injuries.

Minhardt noted that Boisvert was not the only individual involved in the fight, and that the patrons were also to blame. However, he stated that the severity of his blow to the 17 year-old was much more serious.

Boisvert was sentenced to three years probation, as well as 150 hours of community service.

Looking at books

Recently, The Times received the book Heaven Knows by Muskoka author Catherine MacDonald.

It is a slight, easy to read novel about a young girl in early Muskoka of 150 years ago. Anna Marie is the daughter of an Indian woman and an unknown white father. Her mother works in a tavern in Halifax and barely tolerates her little girl. They emigrate, along with a strong, harsh man to a new settlement called North Falls (which sounds like Bracebridge).

Much of the novel is about their lives in the clearing nearby, some of the other settlers and the local Indian tribe and a couple of helpful wolves.

What makes this book different is the sudden death of Anna Marie in the middle of the story, and her ascent into another, spirit world, where she learns all about God's creation of the world, Free Will being given to people, the Fall of Lucifer, and the way in which one can be re-incarnated over and over again, until one earns a permanent place in heaven. She is then sent back to earth, to live out a full and successful life, along the way learning much about native Indian mysticism and understanding the reasons for pain as well as love.

It is a very individual perspective on life and death, told through the voice of a spunky pioneer girl.

Business Profile

The Sunny Rock Lodge

Bed & Breakfast

It is a dream that Sally has had for years, a dream that has become a reality.

More than 20 years ago when she was directing children's summer camps in Fredericton, New Brunswick, Ottawa, London and here in the Highlands at Bark Lake Leadership Centre, Sally Moore dreamed of having her own facility where adults could come to "play" just like the children did at camp. "For years I had been helping to make things fun for children," I thought, "Why shouldn't I be able to do the same for adults?"

When the provincial government sold the facility at Bark Lake, Sally took advantage of the opportunity it presented and purchased the Sunny Rock Lodge Bed and Breakfast, which, at the time, was a private residence. She was embarking on a new phase in her life as a bed and breakfast inkeeper.

"It was everything I had dreamed about," she commented as we sat on the deck overlooking Scott's Dam. "It was close to two bodies of water, ideal for outdoor recreational activities, encourages eco-tourism and quieter indoor pursuits."

Upon purchasing the property she and her founders began nine months of major renovations to get it ready for her first guests. "It opened officially on April 1, 1996 (it was no joke)," Sally recalls. Now in its fourth summer, the Sunny Rock Lodge Bed and Breakfast has become a growing concern.

Sally's vision was to provide more than just a place to stay. "I wanted to make it a fun place where people could relax and enjoy themselves, a place where they would feel welcome." To accomplish this she has included many value added features, for example, Sally hosts a complimentary BBQ Monday night for those who are staying the week. She takes advantage of the lodge's beautiful location next to Scott's Dam. "Not only is it picturesque, but it has its own natural whirl pool," she comments with a twinkle in her eye.

"The place with the player piano."

Last year she added the Pine Studio, a lovely two level, pine, timber frame building next to the lodge. The structure, which is dedicated to the memory of her parents, is graced by a large wrap-around deck overlooking the Drag River. The Pine Studio can accommodate private functions, and has become a popular place for Christmas parties, corporate meetings and retreats, workshops, weddings, anniversaries or any gathering that requires a tasteful room in a unique informal setting.

To many in the community, and those who have been guests at the Sunny Rock Lodge Bed and Breakfast, The Pine Studio is perhaps best known as "the place with the player piano". It provides a musical centre-piece with hundreds of piano rolls featuring songs new and old. "It is one of the most popular features of the resort," Sally adds. "Everyone loves it."

Sally and Sunny Rock Lodge Bed and Breakfast are very much a part of the community. Each May she hosts the Tim Heming Memorial Golf Tournament, a fund raiser for an elementary school bursary for students facing exceptional challenges, and the Loonie Extravaganza, in August, another event which raises money for a variety of local charities.

She is a member of the Haliburton Highlands Bed and Breakfast Group. "It is exciting how much all the Bed and Breakfasts have to offer visitors to the Highlands. Our beautiful, glossy green brochure is an example of how we are working together to make Haliburton a destination."

That kind of attitude has helped to make Sunny Rock Lodge Bed and Breakfast a popular place for visitors to our area as well as for residents looking for a unique location for special occasions.

Interested? Why not give Sally Moore a call at 705-286-4922, (toll-free 1-888-786-6976), and drop by for a visit. She will be happy to share her dream with you!

AN ARTIST FOR THE NEW MILLENNIUM: Archie Stouffer student Nicholas Botticella will have his artwork published for posterity, one of several children across the province whose work will be included in a book commemorating the year 2000. The book, entitled, My Ontario, will showcase the talents of elementary school students across the province, with their vision of what life will be like in the year 2020. Nicholas hopes to plant a tree each year until then to make the planet healthy. His drawing was selected at the school board level and several others before it was finally chosen at the provincial level.

Health equipment available through the Red Cross

Individuals requiring short-term use of health care equipment can contact the Red Cross in Peterborough. The service has a variety of equipment available to rent at nominal charge.

According to Red Cross representative Joni White, the organization hopes to establish distribution sites for the supply of equipment in the area. At the moment, equipment required by local residents is brought in from Peterborough.

Among the items that can be rented from the Red Cross are such things as crutches, wheel chairs, commode chairs and other devices that will enable a patient to live at home in greater comfort. "We are looking at short-term usage, such as three to six months, but there is usually no problem in extending it if the equipment is needed," the representative said.

Despite the fact that the equipment is delivered from Peterborough, there is no additional charge. White noted that a generous donation from the Minden Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion covers the delivery cost to the county. The items are delivered as soon as possible after the order is placed. Equipment rentals are not available to individuals who are in institutions.

Anyone interested in more information about the health care equipment service can contact the Red Cross in Peterborough at 705-745-8222.

REASON TO SMILE:

Naomi Stephenson-Aggett may have been down a pint, but she was still smiling after making a contribution for the well-being of others. She was one of 200 donors who stepped forward to take part in the blood donor clinic held Tuesday at the Haliburton Legion. Clinic assistant Kathy Davidson of Peterborough was on hand to look after the donors. According to local co-ordinator, Theresa Fox, the attendance was just ahead of one held last year at this time.

TSW waterlevels report

The following report was issued by the Trent Severn Waterway July 21.

Mid-summer conditions are beginning to set in. Dry weather has claimed the surplus of water which the system had taken on as a result of the rain received July 3. Flows throughout the system have been cut back to summer minimums in anticipation of more dry weather.

The Haliburton lakes continue the usual summer decline from 82.4 per cent to 79.2 per cent nearly equal to the levels recorded in 1998 at this time.

The levels of the Kawarthas remain near the maximum level of the navigation range.

Lake Simcoe-Couchiching water levels also remain at the correct level for this time of year.

No change for Minden emergency

Anson, Hindon and Minden is not planning an overhaul of its emergency plan. The county has requested municipalities to update their emergency plans to be consistent throughout the county.

AH&M officials reviewed their plan and found it to be "essentially the same" as Sherborne's, which the county considers a comprehensive plan.

It was agreed that AH&M staff doesn't have time to rewrite the document at this time.

Victoria County expands promotional efforts

by Warden John Macklem

Development Department

During the reporting period April 27, to July 9, the Development Department responded to: 388 requests for "tourist information"; 110 inquiries for information and/or assistance from more than 80 businesses; and further responded to 203 planning inquiries (76 consent; 80 from municipal staff and 38 other planning matters such as zoning, subdivisions, official plan interpretation and Provincial Policy Statement and 9 for general information). Approximately 90% of the consent and other development inquiries were from County residents.

The Development Department has been focusing on a business attraction advertising campaign that consistently showcases the "Rush Hour in Victoria County" image.

The Department issued more than 1,000 Rush Hour in Victoria County "business attraction" greeting cards to approximately 1,000 manufacturers in Durham Region and Scarborough and to approximately 310 site selection consultants that represent similar companies.

The Development Department is pleased to present another County Promotional Prop in an effort to raise the profile of the County at fishing related trade shows and other functions. The re-creation of the 2nd largest smallmouth bass ever caught in the world is now on display in the County Building.

The Development Department is pleased to announce that the Kawartha Business Times, (A Division of Metroland Printing) has confirmed Victoria and Peterborough Counties first all inclusive business publication. The publication will be entitled "Kawartha Business Times" and its inaugural edition is set to be published early September.

The County of Victoria website (www.countyofvictoria.on.ca) has been activated and linked to more than 900 search engines. Arrangements have been made to sell "sponsorship" of pages and "hot links" to the site within the website. The official launch and demonstration was held in the Council Chambers on July 21, at the County Council Session.

The Development Department has signed an agreement with Human Resources Development Canada and received funding in the total amount of $103,900.00 for development projects on the Victoria Rail Corridors, for the period August 1, 1999 to May 1, 2000.

The Development Department is pleased to report that operations at Centennial Park is exceeding last year's revenue substantially.

Waste Management

Joint Meeting Council authorized the CAO to co-ordinate a meeting with Durham Region and the Counties of Victoria, Peterborough and Northumberland to discuss the current status of waste management operations. The purpose of the meeting is to see if there is any sharing opportunities that may be advantageous to all.

Library

Public Internet access is now available at all branches of the Victoria County Public Library, except Downeyville and Manilla. Cost recovery fees for Internet use have been reduced to $1 for 30 minutes.

The Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Norland and Little Britain branches now have scanners available for public use.

Human Resources Development Canada continues to offer free one-hour resume clinics at branch locations throughout the County.

Registered library users may borrow slide projectors, overhead projectors, 16 mm film projectors and portable screens by booking at least two weeks in advance at their local branch of the Victoria County Public Library.

The County Library Administration Office has relocated to 28 Francis St. in Lindsay (beside the County Administration Building).

Social Services

The province issued the County of Victoria monies to assist with the "Homeless" in Victoria and Haliburton Counties. County Council approved the spending of these monies at Council. Money will be issued to the YWCA of Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton, the Salvation Army, The John Howard Society Housing Co-Ordination Program, the Victoria County Association of Community Living, the Victoria County Women's Resources and the Canadian Mental Health Association to assist with the Homeless.

The sum of $72,383.35 from the National Child Benefit savings to the County has been allocated to the Healthy Babies Healthy Children Program.

The caseload in April is down 4.4 % from April of 1998. People do seem to be finding employment, which is very encouraging.

Finance and General Administration

The County passed a new Development Charges By-Law, in which effective July 21, 1999, there will (more on page 32)

Development charges cut

no longer be a charge on commercial or industrial development, and the charge for residential development is reduced from $1,243.00 to $1,098.40 per unit.

A by-law was also passed to change from the Division B method to the Division C method under Bill 79. This means that there will be no clawbacks (of 1998 tax savings) being added onto 1999 tax bills for commercial, industrial and multi-residential properties, while properties in these property classes scheduled to receive tax rebates will still receive their rebates on their 1999 tax bills. For those taxpayers whose taxes were reduced by re-assessment in 1998, their taxes will be left alone at those lower amounts which they paid in 1998. This change was made possible because the Minister of Finance, Mr. Eves, issued a regulation to extend the deadline for making the choice of Division to July 31, as requested earlier by County Council.

In addition, a third by-law was passed to set a cut-off date of June 30 for including assessment revisions for calculations of the Bill 70 tax rebates. Assessment change notices received after June 30 will not be factored into the Bill 79 rebate calculations, but will continue to be processed by the local municipality in the usual manner to reflect the impact of the assessment change on basic property taxes.

County Council approved the purchase of a special insurance policy for losses arising from Year 2000 problems. This policy offers coverage of up to $6 million, at a premium of $12,419.00, including PST. The premium will be paid out of 1998 Special Circumstance funding still being held.

Mr. John Byard, consultant, was present to provide County Council with a preliminary update on the ambulance study in which he has been hired to undertake for the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria.

The review of the delivery of ambulance service is a result of the downloading from the Province to the upper tier municipalities.

Mr. Byard advised that the Province wants a seamless service and that he will be taking into consideration all aspects of the delivery of service when preparing his report.

County Council was advised that the by-laws and plan must be in place by September 30, 2000 and that the County must take over full responsibility of land ambulance by January 1, 2001. Mr. Byard is working towards providing County Council with a final report by October 1, 1999.

UCW executive meets in Minden

The following report was submitted from the June 1999 Executive Meeting of Lindsay Presbyterial United Church Women.

A lovely day and a warm welcome by the host U.C.W., greeted 20 members of Lindsay Presbyterial United Church Women at the Minden United Church, as they gathered for their June Executive meetings.

President Roberta Plunkett opened the meeting with prayer, and Pat Bradburn, Minden U.C.W. issued a wish that everyone would enjoy the day.

Pat Burley led worship based on Psalm 84 and closed with prayer.

During the business period, introductions and regrets were noted. Correspondence included information on the Waterloo conference for women, from June 18 to 20 and it was agreed to have Roberta attend, if possible.

Donna Sweetman and Jean Gorrill volunteered to be a part of the Quin-Mo-Lac 2000 Committee, but more volunteers are needed.

After considerable discussion about "Widening Circles"; the Task Group Questionnaire, it appeared that many U.C.W.'s are happy with the status quo and it was reported that Conference U.C.W. had received a lot of feedback expressing anger regarding changes proposed. It was agreed that Pat Burley, Secretary, send a letter to Betty Turcott, stating Lindsay Presbyterial is not opposed to change but is happy with things as they are now. However, we appreciate her time and efforts on our behalf, on the committee to consider all the input received.

Some ideas to celebrate the millennium were offered. For example: small blankets to be sent to Sick Kids Hospital; or OPP for Comfort blankets for children in trauma. A suggestion was made that each U.C.W. bring an item for "A Place Called Home", in Lindsay for the next executive meeting in October. Also discussed was sending money to Trenton for Kosovo Refugees. Roberta is to make inquiries.

Those officers present gave brief reports and discussion about job descriptions took place. Lynn Bertrand, first vice, brought a report concerning World Outreach from Presbytery. Pat Burley gave out application forms for Quin-Mo-Lac and Mid Week events. Marion Lake reported new changes to cutting Campbell's soup labels and handed out sheets. Sheila Mitchell gave the treasurer's report. Five hundred dollars is to be sent to Kosovo Relief.

Following lunch and fellowship, the cross cultural experience to Nicaragua, in February of 2000 was mentioned. Donations to Queens' students are still needed from locals. Marilyn Fortin will be the U.C.W. representative on this trip.

Rally reports indicated very successful events in all areas with very good attendance. Presidents of locals reported interesting programs with speakers such as Betty Turcott and Barbara Loucks and a number of U.C.W.'s had conducted services on conference Sunday.

The next executive meeting will be held on October 7 at the Seagrave United Church. A planning meeting for the annual meeting will be held at Fenelon Falls on September 16.

Grace Kinghorn expressed the thanks of all to Minden U.C.W. for being such attentive hostesses, and to everyone else who had helped to make the day rewarding.

Tougher laws for drunk driving

Every day millions of us share the same roads in Canada. Whether we are drivers or passengers, we all know that we should not drink and drive. Despite this, impaired driving is still the main cause of road accidents.

Alcohol is involved in more than 40 per cent of accidents causing death and almost 30 per cent of accidents causing serious injury. Summer-time is party time. With its barbecues and long weekend celebrations, this season is one of the deadliest of the year.

Canadians who choose to drink and drive put themselves, their passengers and others on the road at risk. The Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada, Anne McLellan, recently tabled a bill in the House of Commons to toughen penalties for impaired driving. It was passed by Members of Parliament in record time.

The new law is based on recommendations made by the Standing Committee on Justice and Human Rights. The Committee heard from individuals, provincial representatives, organizations, police associations, road safety and legal experts, and scientists.

The committee's work shows there is broad public consensus that our criminal law must send a strong signal that impaired driving will not be tolerated. By moving quickly on this legislation, we are sending that message.

The new law increases the minimum fine from $300 to $600 for a first

Q. WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A SEPTIC TANK AND A HOLDING TANK?

A. A SEPTIC TANK CONNECTS TO A NETWORK OF PIPES THAT FORM A LEACHING BED WHICH DISTRIBUTES THE WASTE WATER EQUALLY OVER THE BED AREA. A HOLDING TANK DOES JUST THAT; IT HOLDS ANY WASTE WATER AND NEEDS TO BE PUMPED OUT. AN ALARM IS REQUIRED TO REMIND YOU WHEN IT IS GETTING FULL.

Illegal dumping still a problem in Victoria County

--submitted by Victoria County--

The illegal dumping of garbage at landfill sites still remains a problem throughout Victoria County. Those involved come to the landfill site when the site is closed, and dispose of their garbage at the gate, either to avoid tipping fees or because they just can not be bothered to come to the site during its regular hours of operation. As a result, a landfill attendant must be called to remove the garbage from the gate and taxpayers ultimately have to pay for cleaning up someone else's mess.

In a continuing effort to curb this problem, the County, through the assistance of a private investigation firm, has placed a number of landfills under surveillance.

In the month of April, there were five chargeable incidents. To this date, charges have been laid against six people and eight individuals have charges pending. These charges have been laid by the Lindsay and Coboconk OPP under section 180 of the Highway Traffic Act. The maximum fine for this offence is $500.

Problem sites include the Eldon and Mariposa South landfills and it appears that most of the offenders are local residents. These sites are currently under surveillance. The County of Victoria is committed to putting an end to this practice. The county is seeking the assistance of the public. Anyone seeing or aware of illegal dumping at County landfills or along roadsides, please contact the Waste Management Department at 324-9450 extension 271.

Busy week at Hyland Crest

Hello everyone. Hope you all had a good week. We have certainly had some great summer weather, especially for all our visitors to the area. During the last few days we have enjoyed a variety of activities.

On Thursday July 15, our tea party was hosted by the Minden Shuffleboarders. It was a good to have them here, with their treats and we thank them for coming and spending time with us.

The following morning Ruth and Jack were here to entertain us and that afternoon we welcomed the Pickards at our Happy Hour. As you can see our Friday was filled with music. We love our music.

We were fortunate to have Bert Bonnell here on Saturday afternoon. He provided us with some lovely songs and afterwards we tucked into our favourite treat, ice cream. Pastor Dan Millard was here on Sunday for a chapel service and was joined by Jack and Ruth Worthington. Ruth played the piano. We appreciate these services which are held twice monthly and wish to thank the participating clergy.

Once again the weather intervened for a planned activity. We were supposed to attend a picnic lunch at Lutterworth on Monday, but it just poured. However, our staff and volunteers came through and although the location changed, (our auditorium), we still were able to enjoy the event. Those of us who had signed up for the picnic were very pleased with this. The food was delicious. All home made. Lovely salad plate of varied vegetables along with barbecued hot dogs and hamburgers and for dessert, a choice of six different pies. What a treat! Many thanks to all who made this possible. It was great. That evening, a few dedicated players enjoyed their cards. Haven't heard any scoring results, but we know they always enjoy their get together.

Halls Lake celebration

Montgomerys mark fiftieth

by Doreen Stinson-Burcombe

Saturday evening (July 10) was a pleasant celebration for the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Elsie and Brant Montgomery when over 90 family and friends gathered to help them celebrate this important, happy event. Their fine four sons, Don, Doug, Bob and Tom and daughter Cathy, and their grandchildren were all in attendance with wives and families.

Members of the Stanhope Council were on hand to present greetings and the Montgomerys thanked everyone for travelling from far and wide to help them celebrate.

We're back to Thursday again and as we are sitting chatting we have heard that Nellie Ranson is in hospital. Hope you are feeling better soon. We were happy to hear that Bertha Hughes, who has not been well lately, is now improving and is up and mobile. Also Roy Nichols is feeling a little better today.

Before we leave you we must mention our upcoming birthdays. Sadie Kitchman celebrates on July 27 and Jo McCann on July 31.

A happy birthday to both of you and hope you enjoy your special day.

We welcome Stuart Walkinshaw to our home. Stuart is here with us for a couple of months. Hope he enjoys his stay here. We are not having a tea party today as there is a special trip planned for those residents who are not able to participate in most activities. We will tell you more about it next week.

Until we talk with you again take care of yourselves. Hope you enjoy the next few days. Meanwhile read on.

A little seed lay on the ground
And soon began to sprout
Now which of all the flowers around
Shall I, it thought, come out?

The seed could be heard saying, "I don't care to be a rose

A rose has thorns
I don't care to be a lily, a lily is too colourless,
I don't care to be a violet, a violet is too small and it grows too close to the ground."
And so it criticized each flower,
that supercilious seed,
Until it woke one summer hour
And found itself a weed!

The representative from around the lake included the Campbells, Attridges, Jamiesons, Jennings, Clakes, Novich, Briscoe, Gardners, Griffens and many others.

Jim Packard and his catering group excelled themselves in serving a delicious roast beef dinner, hot and plentiful with special lemon meringue pie.

Mac Williams of Kinmount was the DJ who provided good music during the dinner and later for dancing when the happy couple led off around 9 p.m.

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4450)

The last week of July and the weather has been perfect!! Those of you who have chosen this time for your holiday have made the right choice!! The humidity sneaks in there sometimes, but the last while it has just been glorious. There is nothing better than being by the lake at the cottage!! It's pretty nice on the river in Minden too!! How ever you are spending these summer days, we can all be thankful for everything we are experiencing.

***

I must mention the newest tragedy of the Kennedy family. They have suffered so much. I am so thankful that Jackie is not here to have to mourn the loss of her son. How much can one person or in this case one family take? The potential for John, his lovely wife and her sister is now lost to our world. I guess they were not meant to give more than they did. It's hard to understand!! A tragedy like this one touches all of us who are parents; those of us who have suffered the tragedy of loss and those of us who are grateful we haven't. I saw a picture of Ted Kennedy on TV, body bent, as he boarded a boat to go out to the recovery area. I could feel his burden; so many burdens he has borne for his family.

***

Here's a wonderful story of a granddaughter. Phil Graham (of Volunteer of the Year Award fame!) brought his and his wife Jane's granddaughter, Gillian Graham, down to meet me. Gillian's 12th birthday was being celebrated that day before she headed home. Gillian is from South Africa and she had travelled here on her own from Pretoria through Miami to attend Camp Gay Venture. She had done the whole trip alone the year before also!! The skills Gillian must be learning on these trips will stand her in good stead in her life ahead!! Keep up the adventures, Gillian. Safe journey home!!

Your Presence is Requested....

You've waved to them while they were watering and weeding, now you are invited to the Wedding!! The Minden and District Horticultural Society's 20th Annual Flower Show, "A Garden Wedding", is being held at the Minden Community Centre on Thursday, August 5 from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. and on Friday, August 6 from 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. If you think the flowers around Minden look good, come and see what the members have grown themselves at home and are showing off!! The exhibit area has been expanded to two rooms. The feature of the show will be the imaginative categories such as "True Love", "At the Altar", and "Something Borrowed, Something Blue". You will be treated to a complimentary dainty sandwich and cup of tea after viewing the show. Admission is $3; children 12 and under, free.

I was out getting my groceries the other day and noticed the box for the Minden Food Bank requesting our donations. So here's a gentle reminder to give. Some of us need this kind of help from time to time and those of us who can give, hopefully will do so at all times of the year. Our local organization does a great job helping our community in this way. So drop off some non-perishable items in the boxes at the IGA and Valu-mart and help the Minden Food Bank keep up the good work.

A business notice. I no longer have a fax machine. I didn't get many faxes from you, so my lack of the machine shouldn't make a difference. Machines and I just don't get along so I am glad to be free of the hassle!! I am lucky to be able to handle the computer to get this article in every week or I don't know what I would do!! I enjoy talking to people anyway; much better than getting a piece of information out of a machine. I must be feeling my age being uncomfortable with all these new-fangled gadgets!!

***

Have a great last week of July!! Don't forget the rain delayed Canada Day fireworks display scheduled for July 31 at the Minden ball diamond. They've scheduled a rain date for the following night, August 1. There will also be fireworks Sunday night in West Guilford. Let's hope the weather holds!!
